FUTURE READY™

Week 3 Facilitator Guide

My Story Has Value

Discover Purpose. Build Skills. Launch Your Future.

Essential Question: How can I communicate my story with confidence and purpose?

Week at a Glance

Element	Details
Portfolio Evidence	Future Ready™ Introduction Script, Professional Story, and Practice Video
Badge	Authentic Communicator
Suggested Speaker	Professional whose path included a career pivot, recovery from failure, military or athletic transition, first-generation experience, or unexpected opportunity.
Industry Connection	How professionals introduce themselves, request meetings, prepare for tours, and follow up across industries.

Before the Week Begins

- Review all five sessions and speaker/tour timing.
- Prepare student workbooks, slide deck, activity cards, timer, markers, chart paper, and devices.
- Confirm school-approved Google Workspace, AI, LinkedIn/professional profile, and HubSpot/classroom CRM access.
- Use only fictional or explicitly approved data in workplace technology labs.
- Arrange the room for movement, triads, and team work.
- Post the essential question and internship connection.

Facilitator Opening Script

Welcome to Week 3: My Story Has Value. This week is active, practical, and connected to your Semester 2 internship. You will practice, build, receive feedback, and create evidence for your Future Ready™ portfolio. The goal is not perfection. The goal is growth, professionalism, and the confidence to use what you learn in a real workplace.

Signature Experiences

Role Play

Professional introductions for a healthcare tour, manufacturing tour, guest speaker, networking event, and internship interview.

Improv

Tell It Three Ways: professional, conversational, and 30-second versions.

Case Scenario

Two candidates have similar grades, but only one can explain what they learned from an experience. Teams assess which candidate builds more trust and why.

AI Activity

Use AI as a clarity coach, not a ghostwriter. Flag invented, exaggerated, or generic language.

LinkedIn / Professional Presence

Draft an authentic About section and add education, athletics, service, projects, and leadership experience.

CRM / Workplace Systems

Log a speaker or mentor interaction, create a follow-up task, and document a thank-you message.

Mission Card

Use your professional introduction with one adult and ask what was clear and what they want to know more about.

Day 1: Your Story Is Evidence

Objective: Identify experiences that demonstrate character and transferable skills.

Internship Connection: Students practice behavior that supervisors can observe: communication, reliability, teamwork, initiative, documentation, adaptability, or professional follow-through.

Materials

- Week slide deck
- Student workbook pages
- Timer
- Chart paper or whiteboard
- Markers and sticky notes
- Student devices when required
- Printed activity, role-play, case, and assessment pages

50-Minute Run of Show

Time	Segment	Facilitator Direction
0-5	Welcome / entry prompt	Greet students, display the prompt, and take attendance.
5-12	Teach the why	Connect the lesson to internships, tours, professional presence, or workplace systems.
12-30	Active experience	Label Week 1 timeline moments with skills and analyze the two-candidate case.
30-40	Role play, improv, lab, or case application	Facilitate practice; pause, coach, and restart when useful.
40-47	Debrief and portfolio evidence	Ask students to name what worked, what changed, and what evidence should be saved.
47-50	Exit ticket / mission	Collect a written reflection and assign the Mission Card.

Facilitator Language

Today we are working on your story is evidence. Employers and internship supervisors do not only listen to what you say; they watch what you do, how you respond, and whether you follow through. During the activity, pay attention to the evidence you create.

Activity Instructions

Label Week 1 timeline moments with skills and analyze the two-candidate case.

Debrief Questions

- What did you notice about yourself?
- What did you notice about the team?
- What behavior would build trust with a supervisor?
- What would you change in a second attempt?
- What evidence belongs in your portfolio?

Assessment Check

- Participates respectfully and remains engaged.

Future Ready™ © 2026 Jaime Lane. All Rights Reserved. Licensed to Ambassador Christian School for authorized pilot use only. No redistribution, resale, public posting, or reuse outside the license.

- Uses the week’s framework or workplace system.
- Applies feedback during a second attempt.
- Connects learning to an internship or tour.
- Completes the workbook reflection and portfolio artifact.

Substitute / First-Time Facilitator Notes

Do not lecture for more than eight to ten minutes. Read the opening language, explain the outcome, run the activity, and use the debrief questions. Students may pass on sharing private experiences, but they must complete an alternative professional example. Protect psychological safety while maintaining participation expectations.

Tour and Employer Connection

How professionals introduce themselves, request meetings, prepare for tours, and follow up across industries.

- Research the organization before the visit.
- Prepare three questions connected to this week.
- Practice introductions and professional dress expectations.
- Log the interaction and follow-up task.
- Send a personalized thank-you message.
- Save the reflection in the Employer Tours portfolio folder.

Week Assessment Rubric

Criteria	Beginning	Developing	Future Ready™
Participation	Needs repeated prompting.	Participates with support.	Engages, contributes, and supports others.
Skill Application	Names the skill but does not apply it.	Applies with guidance.	Applies independently and adapts.
Professionalism	Follow-through is inconsistent.	Usually prepared and responsive.	Prepared, accountable, and reliable.
Evidence	Artifact is incomplete or vague.	Artifact is complete with some evidence.	Artifact is specific, polished, and connected to future use.
Reflection	Describes activity only.	Explains learning.	Connects evidence to growth and internship readiness.
